EVENTS ON THE CONTINENT

Feeling Of Great
Uneasiness

London, Oct. 13.
Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking last night in Birmingham, said that during the last few months events on the continent had made a good many people very uneasy about affairs in foreign countries. That feeling found expression in the recent Conservative Party Conference at Bristol when it assured the Government of full support in any expenditure necessary to ensure safety of the country.

No one in the world believed that the British Government or the country would willingly do anything that would lead to war, their whole interest lay in the opposite direction. All efforts of the Government had been directed to trying to remove the causes of war, but he asked would they not incur terrible responsibility if some day, through neglect, the country found itself unable to protect itself against a hostile attack?

Government had given long and anxious consideration to the problem and had reached the conclusion that in a world where no one had disarmed and where others were continually increasing their armaments, a programme must now be embarked upon which would mean very considerable increase in the number of air squadrons available for Home defence and would involve making good some of the deficiencies which had been allowed to accumulate in some of our other forces. He added that they would not, however, relax efforts to prevent a general building up of the level in armaments.

RESEARCH IN ANTARCTIC

Whaling Ground
Mission

London, Oct. 12.
The Royal research ship William Scoresby, a small vessel of the trawler type specially built for scientific whaling observations in the Antarctic, is now loading stores in the River Thames prior to her departure, about 16th inst. on her fourth commission.

After calling at the Cape, she will proceed to the ice edge in the neighbourhood of Enderby Island and Enderbyland, which are the hunting grounds of the floating whale factories, and practicable to other areas where whales may be found.

It is expected that she will be on the whaling grounds for three months without touching port.

The experiments to be undertaken are part of a general scheme of investigations wherein the Royal research ships Discovery and Discovery II, as well as the William Scoresby, have been employed on previous commissions, and the operations this season are specially directed to determining the migration of whales.

The investigations are controlled by a committee acting on behalf of the Falkland Islands Government, under instructions from the Secretary for the Colonies. The William Scoresby is expected to return in the Spring, as will the Discovery II, which sailed from London in October last year and is at present actively engaged in research work in the south.

FISHING OFF NORWAY

Commission To Deal With Disputes

London, Oct. 12.

A draft provisional agreement has been prepared for submission to the United Kingdom and Norwegian Governments by experts of the two countries who have this week held conversations in the Foreign Office upon the possibility of establishing a joint commission to deal with disputes between British and Norwegian fishermen, with special reference to damage to gear.

Lord De la Warr, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, to-day presided over a Government luncheon given to the Norwegian experts at the conclusion of the conversations:—

MARSEILLES OUTRAGE

More Sensational Revelations

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Geneva, Oct. 12.

The farther investigations into the Marseilles crime are pushed, the more sensational become the revelations. Cross-examination of two individuals suspected of complicity of the double assassination went on all Friday, and the only stop was when the police commission conducting the inquiries went to Geneva to have the passports examined by the light of a quartz lamp.

The tests showed that all rubber stamps and visas fixed on the passports were forgeries but it is not yet certain whether the passports themselves are genuine or not. Nowak's identity could not be ascertained for certain but Benesch made a lengthy confession. He said that his real name was Ivor Rajohn and he was born on January 5, 1903 at Kolesnietz in Croatia. He went on to say that his wife and son were still alive and that he lived for four years in Brazil, hence his knowledge of the Portuguese language.

SECRET SOCIETY

Continuing, he said that he returned to Europe a year ago and lived for a short time in Austria, Hungary and then in Croatia, and that he belonged to a secret Croatian organisation, the "Pawerisch." He said that on September 23, last, he received from an unknown person who was a member of the "Pawerisch," money and a forged passport with which he went to Zurich where he met another secret society member with whom he went to Paris. They were met there by a third person from whom they received further instructions, but both the men under cross-examination refused to say what the instructions were as this would be a violation of the oath to the "Pawerisch."

In Paris, Benesch (Rajohn) and Nowak learned through the radio and special editions of the evening papers about the assassinations in Marseilles whereupon they proceeded immediately to Switzerland where they were arrested at Thonon. In the possession of the suspects were found a number of articles bearing the labels of the same firm where Kalemek had made several purchases. Besides this Nowak had a compass of identical pattern to that carried by Kalemek. The two arrested men will only be charged with using forged passports for which offence they will at first be tried and sentenced at Thonon.

AIR RACE TO AUSTRALIA

Plans For Start On October 20

London, Oct. 12.

Plans for the start, on October 20 of the great air race to Australia, for Sir MacPherson Robertson's trophy, are being completed at Mildenhall, Suffolk, one of the largest aerodromes in England.

Even the heaviest planes in the race should experience no take-off difficulties, for runways of about 1,500 yards are available, and as the surrounding country is flat, the approaches are excellent.

All of the competitors for the race, which is being organised by the Royal Aero Club, have not yet arrived in England, but they must assemble by Sunday, when the machines will be weighed and inspected and a meeting of pilots will be held to discuss the starting arrangements.

Meanwhile, the pilots already in England are to be the guests of the Club at a banquet this evening, presided over by Lord Gorell, to which many distinguished people, including the American Ambassador, Mr. R. W. Bingham, and the High Commissioner for Australia, Mr. Stanley Bruce, have been invited.

ANGLO-GERMAN DEBT NEGOTIATIONS

To Be Resumed In Berlin Next Week

London, Oct. 13.

Sir Frederick Leith Ross, Chief Economic Adviser to Government, will leave for Berlin at the beginning of next week for resumption of the Anglo-German negotiations on the question of German outstanding commercial debts and financing of future trade between the two countries. Newspapers emphasise that it is the Government's view that arrangements for liquidation of old commercial debts must form part of any agreement reached with Germany. These outstanding debts, a large part of which is owed to Lancashire and Yorkshire textile interests, is estimated by the press to amount to about £2,000,000.

CHIEF OF STAFF LOSES OFFICE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Brussels, Oct. 12.

A sensational end was put on Friday to the conflict going on for some time past between the War Minister, Devez, and the Chief of the General Staff, Nuyten, when the latter was summarily removed from office.

The recent incident, when Nuyten in criticising the military manoeuvres said that in case of need Belgium could not rely on help from other countries coming fast enough, was the only outward cause of the breach. The real reason is said to be Nuyten's belief that the main defences should be behind the river Maas or even the Scheldt whereas the government, parliament and the greater part of the nation would not hear of any part of the country being left exposed to enemy advance.

MINERS ENTOMBED

Madrid, Oct. 13.

A terrible fate overtook 100 miners who had sought refuge from Government troops who were bombarding the town of Compomones by going down the mine. Several shells landed in the proximity of the mine shaft, causing the earth to slide, sealing the pit shaft and entombing the whole company. As soon as the disaster which took place on Friday was discovered on Saturday, rescue work began in frantic haste but the earth excavation was difficult and consequently progress was slow.

In view of the length of time the unfortunate men were already cut off the outer world, grave fears are entertained about their ultimate fate.

SITUATION IN SPAIN

Air Attack On Insurgents

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Madrid, Oct. 12.

The earlier announcement made by the Spanish Government that Oviedo is completely in the hands of the troops proved to be premature, the latest reports stating that only the outer districts and one of the barracks have been occupied. The rebels are offering desperate resistance, being strongly barricaded and still holding the attackers at bay. The State arms factory near Oviedo from which the insurgents obtained their weapons and ammunition is now being bombed by airplanes as well as the neighbouring streets. During the bombardment which was carried out by five squadrons several planes missed their aim, hitting the railway line instead of the wrecked train on the Oviedo-Ujo line. A motor transport column, consisting of fourteen lorries were also hit and destroyed.

In other parts of Asturias, isolated nests of rebels are still making a last stand but the photos taken from airplanes show the insurgents' position to be desperate, more and more of them falling into the hands of the regular troops who were alleged to show little mercy especially to foreign legionnaires. The army reported that Oviedo's famous fourteenth century cathedral containing unique art treasures perished in flames but it is not known whether this is due to incendiaries or misdirected bombs. In Madrid the routine of life—cafes, restaurants and traffic—have been resumed. Many workless belonging to the Catholic trade unions have been given the strikers' jobs. On Friday morning several gas mains were destroyed by exploding bombs but the damage was soon repaired by firemen, wearing gas masks.

PALOOKA

With "Schnozzle"

Jimmie Durante is glad he's got what the world would call a "crazy" outlook on life especially since he's got the physiognomy that goes with it.

The one and only "Schnozzle" (write to the Federal Copyright Office in Washington, D.C. if you don't believe it) whose quaint singing voice and idiotic sense of humour reach their zenith in "Reliance's" "Palooka", the Harry M. Goetz-Edward Small all-star comedy production for United Artists release, at the King's Theatre on Wednesday, with Lupe Velez, Stuart Erwin, Marjorie Rambeau, Robert Armstrong, Mary Carlisle, William Cagney, Thelma Todd and Gus Arnheim and his Orchestra sharing chief honours, was born on the lower East Side one February 18th.

He admits he acquired his early education in poolrooms, corner cigar stands and back alleys. He harmonized in amateur quarters in Bowery saloons, flirted with the idea of becoming a policeman like his brother and finally took up photo-engraving.

But singing was on his mind. In the course of adventuring about in Brooklyn beer halls and an occasional church charity benefit, he teamed up with Lou Clayton and Eddie Jackson, forming the famous team of Clayton, Jackson and Durante.

The first thing that made America really Durante-conscious was his recording of "So I Ups To Him!" After being featured with his partners in "Show Girl" and "The New Yorkers", he played his first screen role in "Roadhouse Nights".

He definitely joined the Hollywood roster three years ago and since then has appeared in "The New Waitingford", "Cuban Love Song", "The Passionate Plumber", "The Phantom President", "The Wet Parade", "Blonde of the Follies", "Speak Easily", "Meet the Baron" and "The Hollywood Party".

During the winter of 1932-33 he co-starred with Lupe Velez on Broadway in "Strike Me Pink" which closed only because both stars had film contracts that were binding.

Jimie is five feet seven and weighs 155 pounds (including the famous "schnozzle"). His favourite recreations are fishing and gold and his hobby is collecting stamps.

"MANDALAY"

At The Alhambra

One of the most spectacular settings seen in a picture this year serves as the background for dramatic scenes in the first National production, "Mandalay," which is showing to-day at the Alhambra Theatre.

It is the "Jardin d'Oratoire," exotic night club in Rangoon. While the setting is not an exact duplication of any particular Burmese resort, it combines the most spectacular features of several that are well known to travellers in the Orient.

Several hundred extras are used, mostly native types, Burmese, Hindus and Chinese, with a sprinkling of British officers and their ladies.

Kay Francis shares honours with Warner Oland and Lyle Talbot in the cast.

THE LITTLE GIANT

At The Alhambra

Edward G. Robinson, whose "Little Caesar" characterization will ever be regarded as one of the finest even shown on the screen, is back again as a gangster in First National's comedy drama, "The Little Giant," which opens to-morrow at the Alhambra Theatre. It's a knockout comedy drama, with the star at his very best.

Let's get the wrong impression we hasten to add Robinson is really not quite a gangster in the "Little Caesar" sense of the word, and neither is "The Little Giant," heavy drama. In fact Robinson is a comedian, and the picture is one of the funniest comedies we have seen.

Just as so many recent fine pictures which have come out of the Warner Bros.-First National studios dealt with unusually timely and interesting topics, so does "The Little Giant" deal with a timely subject—that of a beer baron, who sees the handwriting on the wall when President Roosevelt is elected, and quits the racket to take a fling at being a gentleman and a social climber.

Gangsters and gamblers, according to a well established police maxim, never know when to quit. The former are usually speeded in their departure by a "salvo of lead," and the latter die broke.

Not so "The Little Giant." Having amassed a million by a successful and extremely profitable indifference to the Eighteenth Amendment for a number of years, "Bugs" Ahearn, the "Little Giant," seizes the opportunity offered by the last national elections to cash in and get out.

That isn't all, however. In fact, it's only the beginning. Ahearn, played by Robinson with relish and gusto, has secretly cherished an ambition some day to live like a gentleman and be accepted as such in those social circles where wealth and blue blood are the open sesame. Calling his trusty gang together, his "little men," well and goes forth to break into society and live like a gentleman.

Casting about for a suitable scene for his social debut, "Bugs" picks Santa Barbara, California, millionaires' playground. He moves in, rents a palatial estate and waits for things to happen.

Things are not long in happening, either. Before Robinson discovers that the underworld he knows so well has no monopoly on racketeers, he has taken up polo, yachting and all of the other swagger tricks of the upper "Circle." To complicate matters he has fallen in love with a girl.

Thanks to his new-found "friends," it costs "Bugs" Ahearn a cool three-hundred thousand to "muscle in" on the elite—only to discover that he has been taken "for a ride" in the dialect of his former sphere.

Then the fireworks begin—and we'll leave you to discover for yourself the outcome on one of the most entertaining pictures the Alhambra Theatre has shown for many a day.

MR. W. J. OAKLEY AT THE KING'S KILLED
Famous Amateur Footballer
(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 22.
It was reliably learnt last night that Mr. William John Oakley, the England and Corinthian footballer and Oxford athlete Blue, was fatally injured in a motor accident near Carlisle on Monday.

He was travelling alone from Scotland when his car skidded and overturned. He was taken to Carlisle Infirmary where he died from his injuries on Tuesday.

Mr. Oakley, with Mr. F. A. H. Henley, was associate headmaster of Ludgrove, the preparatory school near New Barnet, at which the two sons of the Princess Royal and the Earl of Harewood are pupils.

His death will be mourned by thousands of older sportsmen, for he was a great figure in football and athletics in the twenties. Between 1893 and 1896 he played as a full-back in the Varsity match in all four years—in 1895, when C. B. Fry was captain.

He played for England at football against Scotland in 1896-7-8-1900 against Wales in 1895-6-7-8, and in 1900-1; and against Ireland in 1896-7-8-9, and 1901. During those years he also played for the Corinthians, and represented Oxford in the 120 yards hurdles and the long jump against Cambridge in 1894-5-6, and was amateur long jump champion in 1895.

At Shrewsbury School, Oakley was captain of football, in the school crew, huntman (captain of running), and would probably have been in the school cricket eleven—but for the multiplicity of his other diversions. He was no mean scholar withal, and was a member of the Upper Sixth for two years.

CATHERINE THE GREAT

Coming To The King's

Three authors are responsible for the story of Alexander Korda's newest picture, "Catherine the Great" (Leicester Square Theatre), directed by Paul Czinner. Between them, Messrs. Lajos Biro, Arthur Wimperis, and Melchior Lengyel have transformed the earlier chapters of Catherine's marriage to Peter into something rather like a drawing-room comedy, with a devoted little wife playing prettily for marital happiness by stirring up her husband's jealousy and pretending an infidelity of which she is innocent. And Peter, far from being the disgraced, petty creature he was, starts off as a Prince Charming despite his tantrums!

Well, well, the public will not quarrel with the idealising of this imperial pair, any more than it did with the belittling of Henry VIII. For the picture is magnificently set; the massive splendour of the Russian Court fills the eye with its pomp; and M. Perin's camera again spreads glamour everywhere. The acting does the rest. Though romance softens the edges of fact to the end, Elisabeth Bergner and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., handle their parts brilliantly, lending a growing interest, even a measure of poignancy, to the development of Catherine's power and the downfall of the half-crazed Peter. Flora Robson's old Empress Elisabeth is an effective portrayal, albeit entirely English in key; and two charming cameos are contributed by Irene Vanbrugh and Gerald du Maurier. Polished

DIRT TRACK RIDING

And Comic Results

For the dirt track sequence in the Gaumont-British picture, "Britannia of Billingsgate," the next change at the Queen's Theatre, which features Violet Lorraine and Gordon Barker, with Kay Hammond, a number of famous Speedway riders were recruited from the London Speedway tracks.

Those taking part were Ron Johnson and Tom Farndon (Crystal Palace), Colin Watson (Wembley), and Gus Kuhn, Claude Rye and Arthur Warwick (Wimbledon).

These expert riders put up a thrilling race in the film, during which a motor cycle crashed and burst into flames. Thousands watched this contest, the director Sinclair Hill, in order to ensure a "full house" at the Lea Bridge Speedway where filming occurred, advertising in the National Press offering free admission. Speedway enthusiasts from all over London took advantage of this opportunity of cheering their particular heroes on to victory.

A particularly funny incident was also filmed at the same time. Gordon Barker mounted a motor cycle and proceeded to demonstrate his flair, or lack of it, for speedway riding. After making a hazardous circuit or two, Gordon crashed into the been bar to the sound of the breaking of dozens of bottles.

In every detail, conceived on a lavish scale, "Catherine the Great" may not be history, but it is a fine show.

"VIVA VILLA!"

Now At The Queen's

A new romantic team makes its bow to screen audiences at the Queen's Theatre.

The principals are Wallace Beery, who scored so heavily with Marie Dressler in "Min and Bill" and "Tugboat Annie," and Fay Wray, who has spent most of her cinematic life escaping from cannibals and giant apes.

Beery and Miss Wray, together for the first time, fight a love battle in "Viva Villa!" Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular fictional story of the tempestuous life and loves of Pancho Villa, Mexican war lord.

As Villa, uncouth peon who rose from slavery to great power, Beery makes love to Miss Wray.

As the proud sister of a wealthy hacendado, who considers her station in life far above the peon, Miss Wray repulses him.

And the result as shown in "Viva Villa!" is one of the many dramatic climaxes of the story. Filmed largely in Mexico, "Viva Villa!" is a strong contender for first honours of the year in screen productions. It is one of the most ambitious pictures of the season, ranking with "Eskimo" and "Trader Horn" as dramatic depictions of the life of a foreign people.

WHITHER SOUTH AFRICA

An Example Of The Boer
Outlook

Most of the readers of this paper probably saw Cavalcade, and not a few of them will have shed a tear over the South African War scenes. How many realise that all this sacrifice of men and money has been in vain; that S. Africa has been handed back to the Boers—not only those parts which were theirs before the war, but the Cape (which was purchased by us from Holland in the 17th century), and Natal also.

General Hertzog, at the Cape Nationalist Congress, said recently (as reported in the London Times). "I am filled with the deepest appreciation of what the British people and government had the courage to do by giving us what is rightly ours without once looking back; they not only gave us what we desired but fraternally assisted to bring into effect all that is implied in sovereign independence."

The three objectives for which the Nationalist Party was formed were South Africa first. Equality for the Afrikaans language; No domination by Great Britain.

If these objectives were the desire of S. Africa as a whole we should have little alternative than to agree to them, in the same way as we should if any other of the Dominions showed definite separatist tendencies, but actually they are the objectives of the Nationalist party only, which represents the Boer or Afrikaans-speaking population.

There is no more loyal community in the Dominions than the English-speaking South Africans and they have been betrayed into the hands of the Boers by the British Government—the Boers who still remember very vividly the South African war and laugh at this opportunity we have given them gratuitously of getting their own back.

The Future

The writer has just concluded a motor tour right through Africa. In the Free State he nearly got mobbed for daring to display a small Union Jack on his car, and was accused of trying to stir up racialism by doing so!

Britishers resident in S. Africa view their future with concern. One is giving up his thirty year old business and returning to England another is selling up his farm and moving up to Southern Rhodesia, a third is remaining, but sending his children to seek jobs elsewhere. Why? Because they know that the Britisher—be he born in England or S. Africa, is now and will be more in the future at a distinct and marked disadvantage vis-a-vis the Boer.

The Civil Servants, for example the men who have built up the splendid S. A. government railway system—all Britishers are being rebuffed on pension just as quickly as men with African names can be found to replace them. It is the same with the police, the Post Office, and in every walk of life in which the government has a say, even down to the Defence Force. And of course, especially in Education.

The following actual occurrence took place during Prince George's recent visit to Johannesburg. All school children were given a half holiday to come into town and see him, and were invited by the municipality to a spread in honour of the occasion. Two very Nationalist Afrikaans schools sent notes to the Mayor. They were not interested in an English Prince, but could the Prince be sent along to the school at the Mayor's convenience!

This is typical of the Boer outlook. They are at great pains to declare to the world (and to other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations) how free and unfettered they are, from Great Britain, and to prove their independence by such acts as giving a subsidy to Italian shipping, doing away with the Union Jack except as a very insignificant portion of the Union flag, etc., but all they can get out of being a member of the Empire they accept with both hands.

The Death Knell

The danger to the rest of the Empire is that other Dominions may take the acts and declarations of the Nationalist Party as being typical of the whole of South Africa, and follow their example. Although they are in power now, it should not be forgotten that only a little over 50% of the population are of Dutch origin, and with the exception of lawyers, doctors and politicians these are for the most part the least educated and the least go-ahead of the population, from the Back-veld. They have no possible interest in the British, to whom they lost the S. African war, except for what they can get out of them. In all the towns and cities the British predominate; it is they who have the money, who won the businesses, but they do not seem to have a flair for politics; there is too much laissez-faire about them.

We cannot blame the Boers if they take S. Africa from us, they are merely following in the letter, the lead given them by Britain. A Senator of the S. African parliament with whom I was discussing the situation said "It is your own fault. You British set the ball rolling of your own accord with the Balfour Declaration in 1922, and you cannot blame us if we take advantage of it." That is true, but it makes the pill none the less bitter to swallow.

A judge of the Supreme Court, with whom I was dining in Mauritius on the way from Africa to the Far East told me that in his opinion the Balfour Declaration marked the death knell of the British Empire. Unless we get under way at once with a constructive Empire policy, I am afraid he is right.

Around the Courts

ALLEGED FRAUDS

An amazing number of frauds was revealed before Mr. Macfadyen at Central Magistracy on Saturday when Funk Kung-sang, unemployed, was charged with (a) the embezzlement of the sum of $300 from Messrs. Goodman and Douglas and Company on December 12, 1933, (b) the theft of a cheque book, the property of Major Eastwick Field, of Lyemun Barracks, (c) receiving the stolen cheque book, (d) the attempted larceny, by a trick, of a diamond ring, the property of Messrs. Bennett, Freres on October 4, and (e) having obtained an electric fan, the property of Messrs. Batten and Company, by false pretences on September 18.

The charge of attempted larceny by a trick of the diamond ring was withdrawn at the last hearing, Mr. Macfadyen saying that the intention did not wholly lie with the defendant, and that in this case the defendant did not actually have the ring in his possession.

The new charges were (1) larceny of two gold bracelets from Cheung Yu and Yuen Kan-hing at the Tai Sing Hotel in Hong Kong on August 31, and (2) larceny of two for hire of a public vehicle. Accused pleaded guilty to all except (c) and (e), charges. On (c) charge, Inspector J. Murphy said that accused went to Messrs. Batten and Company, and obtained the fan saying "that his master, the Yiu Fatt and Company, had instructed him to buy it." After getting the fan, accused then sold it to his master for $25, saying that it was his own.

On (g) charge Inspector Murphy said that on August 31, accused hired a taxi, which was driven by Sun Ka-yuen, to drive him to the Tai Sing firm, where he obtained the bracelets by saying that he was an employee of a Japanese firm in the Colony and that his master wanted to buy the bracelets. The two took accompanied him to the said Japanese firm, but defendant slipped out of the back way. He then ordered the taxi driver to drive him to the Chinese Company where he might find his master, and waited for him. He did not return, the driver was said to have waited for three hours.

After a long hearing on (e) charge accused was convicted. The case was adjourned until Monday afternoon for the hearing of the remaining charges.

PICKING FOR THE BLIND

Dear Sir,

May I, through the medium of your columns, remind the public that the Annual Picnic for the Blind Home at Pokfulam takes place on Saturday, October 27th at 2.30 p.m. It is hoped that the public will give its generous support to this worthy cause. a bribe from a woman at the Hong Kong and Canton Wharf.

Lam Po-chi, the complainant, told the Court that someone asked her for $13.80 that she could board the ship without having her luggage searched. Then, she said, a gentleman, who overheard the constable, interfered, but she could not identify either the officer or the gentleman in question.

Mr. Wong Kwong-tin, who was said to be the gentleman in question, was then called, but complainant could not recognise him.

Mr. G. K. Hall-Brutton, appearing for Ng Yum, strongly denied the charge and cross-examined the witness who replied that she came to the Court only because she was called, to and that she did not wish to prosecute.

The case was dismissed.

BANISHEE SENTENCED

After having been fined $1,000 with the alternative of six months' hard labour for being in possession of 63 tael of raw opium, Yuen Sang, a seaman employed on the Jardine steamer, Mau Sang, was later found to be a banishee and on this charge he was sentenced by Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday to twelve months' hard labour for returning to the Colony.

Stated to be an ex-constable, Liu Po Lan, a 34-year old unemployed, was fined $2,500 or, in default, six months' hard labour by Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday for being in possession of 8,000 heroin pills at No. 113, Fuk Wing Street, ground floor.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF OPIUM

Before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning, a Chinese woman named Wong Yee, aged 32 years, was charged with illegal possession of ten tael of prepared opium. It was stated by the prosecuting officer that the accused was arrested in Connaught Road Central, near the Tung On Wharf, and the opium was found tied up with rubber bands around her waist.

The accused pleaded guilty and a fine of $300 or in default two months' hard labour was imposed.

PO PU TICKETS OFFENCE

Found in possession of 148 po pu lottery tickets, a Chinese named Lee Wai, was charged before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Court on Saturday morning, and was fined $50 or in default three weeks' hard labour. The accused pleaded guilty and the tickets were ordered to be immediately destroyed.

PARTIALITY FOR FELT HAT!

Arrested in Nathan Road Kowloon last Friday night was a felt hat in his possession, a Chinese named Yip Kam, an unemployed, was charged before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday morning.

The complainant, a shop-folk, stated that he accused under the guise of a customer entered the shop and took a felt hat which was hung on the wall near the counter, by which he was identified as the hat he was accused of stealing. The hat was arrested him.

LAWN BOWLS SEASON
CLOSES

Aitkenhead Shield Matches

The local Lawn Bowls season was officially closed on Saturday with the annual match between Hong Kong and Kowloon for the Aitkenhead Shield, which was won by the former by 14 shots. The match was played at the Kowloon Bowling Green Club and attracted a large number of bowling enthusiasts.

Following the match a Steak and Kidney Dinner was given by the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls Association at the Kowloon Cricket Club. Over 200 guests were present and after dinner the season's trophies were presented to the successful competitors.

Before asking Mr. Justice R. E. Lindell to give away the prizes, Mr. B. E. Maughan, the President of the Lawn Bowls Association, congratulated the Craigflower "A" and the Indian Recreation Club on winning the Senior and Junior divisions respectively, thinking special mention of the latter club as "they were young sportsmen who have taken up the game with great enthusiasm and thoroughly deserved their success."

Mr. Maughan also congratulated Mr. A. W. Grimmett for establishing a record "which would be difficult to equal and very hard to beat" by winning the Singles championship, the Open Pair and the Open Rink.

To mark this exceptional feat, Mr. Grimmett was presented with a special souvenir. The following is the season's prize list:

POLICE PRAISED

Inspector General's Farewell

A warm tribute to the local police force was paid by the Hon. Inspector General of Police, the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe when he paid his farewell visit to the Police Training School, Mongkok on Saturday morning.

"After being sixteen years in command, I can say without hesitation that the Hong Kong Police Force is one of the finest forces in the Colony," said Mr. Wolfe in addressing the recruits.

Mr. Wolfe went on to say that the starting of the Police Training School by the late Mr. W. Gerrard, former A.S.P., met a real need. The good work had been carried on by ex-Chief Inspector Paterson, and was now in the capable hands of Chief Inspector Clarke, whom he was sorry to say, was leaving soon. On behalf of the Force, Mr. Wolfe expressed appreciation to C. I. Clarke for his work as Principal of the School and as a regular officer of the regular Force.

The Training School, he added, gave the recruits a solid foundation for knowledge of Police work and regulations, and was an important stepping stone to their careers as Police officers.

Mr. Wolfe concluded by placing before the recruits two maxims—loyalty and devotion to service—and asked them to maintain the high reputation of the Police Force. He said good-bye and wished each individual member a highly successful career in the Force.

On behalf of the School, Chief Inspector Clarke thanked the

LONDON WEDDING

Davies-Urquhart

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 22.

Sunshine glistened through last Saturday's showers in time to give a traditionally happy send-off to Miss Irene Constance Urquhart, daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Alexander Urquhart, of Portofino, Bitchworth Lane, Northwood, upon her marriage to Mr. Geoffrey Wynne Davies, only son of the late Rev. J. Wynne Davies and Mrs. Davies, of Bryntirion, Datchet, Bucks, which was solemnised at Holy Trinity Church, Brompton Road, in the presence of a large and fashionable congregation.

The bride's father has earned the distinction of being the oldest member of Paddington Borough Council. The bride's mother, who is equally popular among Paddingtonians as her genial husband, is a lady of great charm of manner, and takes a wide interest in local affairs.

The chancel was beautifully decorated with monster chrysanthemums in shades of amber and flame, with other lovely autumn flowers, against a background of palms. The service, which was fully choral, was conducted by the Rev. W. Marshall Selwyn, Vicar of Holy Trinity, assisted by the Rev. R. S. Davies, Rector of Horton.

The hymns sung were "Praise to the Holiest in the height" and "O Perfect Love," while during the signing of the register, the choir very effectively rendered Bach's Chorale, "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring."

The bride, who was given away by her father, entered to the strains of the Bridal March from "Lohengrin." She looked very charming in an exquisite bridal gown of corn coloured satin, inspired by Faton, and created by William Whiteley Ltd. The high draped neckline was unadorned, save by heavy gauging upon the shoulders. Large satin buttons fastened the back from the neckline to the waist, with cleverly arranged frills gave the effect of a tiny bustle. The train was short, and composed of a triple panel. The bride's veil was of parchment colour net, surmounted by a simple coronet of orange blossom, and she carried a lovely sheaf of yellow tea roses.

There were three bridesmaids in attendance, the Misses Kathleen Pittcock (of Deal), Betty Goodall (of Hastings) and Babette Brooks (Sir James Baneroff's granddaughter), whose picturesque frocks were in a delightful new colour combination of dahlia coloured pouter de sole. These lovely gowns were cut on severe lines, broken only at the knees by a mass of tiny rippling frills, which descended to the ground. They wore plain velvet hats to match, tilted effectively over the right eye, and they carried sheafs of pink tiger lilies.

Dr. F. G. Wood-Smith ably discharged the duties of best man.

The following acted as ushers:—Mr. E. A. Holt, Mr. Roger Sanderson, Dr. A. R. Banham, Dr. A. W. Franklin, Mr. E. O. H. Thompson, Mr. John Meade and Mr. John Duley.

Mr. W. J. Waterman was at the organ.

As the happy pair passed down the aisle, Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played, and upon reaching the chancel door, they had to run the gauntlet of showers of confetti and rose leaves.

The guests afterwards went on to the Whitehall Hotel, where a largely attended reception was held, the bride's mother receiving the numerous guests in a very becoming toilette of navy maroon, with circular sleeves of taffeta and finished with a large bow at the neck, revealing the new Parisian cowl at the back.

Mrs. Davies, the bride groom's mother, wore an effective gown of navy blue georgette and lace, and she held a bouquet of pink carnations.

Inspector General, for his kind words and wished him and Mrs. Wolfe and Miss Wolfe bon voyage and a happy retirement.

On his arrival at the Training School, the Inspector General was met by Chief Inspector A. R. Clarke, Principal of the School, and Chief Inspector F. E. E. Booker.

Following the taking of a group photograph, the Inspector General, accompanied by the Principal, inspected the Kowloon squad of the Emergency Unit, drawn up under Sergeant J. E. Jessop.

THE DISCOVERY OF AMERICA

Home Of Invention And Democracy

A banquet was given by the Latin-American Consuls at the Hong Kong Hotel on Friday night on the occasion of the 422nd anniversary of the discovery of America.

Gov. U. A. Bianconi, the Italian Consul-General, presided, and in his speech, he stressed the importance and value to the world of the discovery.

Sir William Shenton, who replied for the guests, described America as the "Home of Invention and Democracy" and said that the discovery of the vast continent had given new life to mankind.

Speeches in Spanish were made by the Consul for Cuba, Father Bonachea y Romero, and the Consul for Guatemala, Senior J. G. Gonzales de Bernedo.

Among those present were members of the Consular body. His Excellency the G.O.C. Major-General O. C. Borrett, and Mrs. Borrett, Sir William Shenton and Miss Yvonne Shenton, Commodore Frank Elliott and Mrs. Elliott, Sir Shou-son Chow, Captain J. J. Abbott, A.D.C. to the G.O.C., and Paymaster-Commander F. R. Porter, Secretary to the Command.

CAV. BIANCONI'S SPEECH

Gov. U. A. Bianconi said in part:—

"It is on behalf of my colleagues representing the Latin American countries that I have to-night the honour of addressing to you their best thanks for your presence."

"The banquet is put under the symbol of la Raza which is English means race and has led some people to believe that a new kind of competition was going to take place in Happy Valley where instead of the customary Chinese and Australian ponies, Latin American horses would be among the starters. The misunderstanding needed a good deal of explanation. I had to say that the race which is being celebrated is that new population which, while taking its sources from the joint efforts of the Latin people, has civilised the world with a new civilisation in North and South America."

A Good Business

"To put it in plain words, the discovery and colonisation of America has been a good business for everybody except for Spain. That noble country which survives every crisis with a renewed energy, has seen its best blood drained by the gigantic efforts for the creation of a new race. Tantae molis erat Romanam condere gentem."

"While America was shaping its interior and external frame, Spain's political power was falling into internal decadence and international costly wars. Nobody, however, could force how the history of Europe would have developed if Spain had not devoted its best armies and treasures to American affairs. May be the growing powers of the northern countries of Europe would have found stronger resistance and the old Catholic unity would have restored in Europe three centuries before Napoleon, could conceive and partly fulfil the political unification."

"But it will remain to this everlasting credit of Spain to have supplied Europe with a new activity for the beginning of banks and have given the start to the financial speculation which seems to have created the later wealth of the Dutch and Anglo-Saxon countries."

An Apology

"Before finishing I owe an apology to all if you for the unwarranted length of my speech, and let me express the hope that this will not be our last dinner and that the foreign Consuls will be able to add the contribution of their knowledge and experience to the social life of this most hospitable Colony."

The Sixth Exhibition of Home Products of China Province was formally opened on October 1 at the Museum inside the Chungshan Park, Tientsin Native City. Thousands of exhibits from tooth powder to machinery, were on display. Mr. Chu Yush, secretary in chief to Governor Yu Hsueh-chung, made the inaugural speech in the course of which he urged the promotion and development of na-

Trade Marks

The draft is published of "An Ordinance to amend further the Merchandise Marks Ordinance, 1890."

The objects and Reason, states that "Additional power is given to the Superintendent of Imports and Exports, if he is satisfied that imported goods which bear a mark purporting to be that of a manufacturer, etc., in the United Kingdom have been fraudulently marked, to require full information of the importer. If the information required is not forthcoming within 14 days, the importer renders himself liable to a heavy fine."

A draft Ordinance "to protect the sand supplies of the Colony and to regulate the sale of sand" is published.

One of the clauses vests in the Governor the extensive privilege of collecting, storing and selling sand from beaches or unenclosed land in the Colony.

LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 14th.

The Golden Text was: "The Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us" (Isaiah 33:22).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Art thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine Holy One? we shall not die. Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity" (Habakkuk 1:12-13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science reveals God, not as the author of sin, sickness, and death, but as Divine Principle, Supreme Being, Mind, exempt from all evil" (p.127).

HONG KONG, OCTOBER 15, 1934.

THE POLICE FORCE

The impending departure of the Inspector General of Police, the Hon. Mr. R. D. C. Wolfe, is a fitting occasion to pay tribute to the Police Force, thanks to whose tireless efforts we, in Hong Kong, have always enjoyed comparative peace and calm. The retiring official first arrived in the Colony as far ago as 1901 but though he has filled many a position in the Civil Service, the greater part of his career has been connected with the Police Force so that there can be no denying that it is principally due to his efforts that the Force has attained the high degree of efficiency it enjoys to-day.

Training a body of men at the best of times is no sinecure but when one has to do so with the added handicap of getting together a Force comprised of British, Indians, Chinese (Northern and Southern) and more latterly Russians, then the task is rendered all the more difficult. Mr. Wolfe, however, surmounting this drawback and, impressing upon his men that esprit de corps is the sine qua non of an efficient force, he succeeded in not only keeping crime at a minimum in the Colony, but he has also earned for the Force the name of the most efficient body of its kind in the East. Indeed some authorities have even gone so far as to say that the Hong Kong Police can stand comparison with the best in the world, and what better compliment can be paid to the work that Mr. Wolfe has put in?

In the course of his speech at the Police Training School last week, when he was the guest of honour at a farewell party, Mr. Wolfe mentioned that the Training School was first started by Mr. W. Gerrard and that it was mainly responsible for the smartness of the men to-day. The public are perhaps not aware of what goes on at the School but it would be interesting to note that recruits, irrespective of whether they are British, Chinese or Indians are "put through the mill" vigorously before they are passed out as full-fledged guardians of the peace. It must not be assumed that only drill and musketry instructions are held in the School. An essential part of the training is a knowledge of the rules and regulations governing the duties of a policeman, and no matter how efficient a recruit may be as regards drill or musketry work, or even first aid, he is not allowed to go out "on his own" until he has passed his examination in Police Regulations and Local Ordinances.

Very often when we have a major crime in the Colony and reports are issued to the effect that "so far no details are available but the Police are making investigations," the accusation is made that there is too much slackness in the Force. That is an extremely unfair charge, for it has been known that the Police have arrested people in connection with a breach of the peace as long as one year after the crime was committed. That is one of the instances that the Police never relax in their efforts to bring to book any undesirable character.

There is one department in the Police Force that can, we feel, lend more co-operation to the public. We refer to the Traffic Department. Let it not be supposed that we are going out of our way to find fault, but it does seem a pity that with the increase in motor traffic and the resultant "safety first" campaigns, those in charge of the Traffic Department have not deemed it desirable to issue, at regular intervals, statistics of motor accidents. This is done in all the big cities in Europe and America and while some may hold the opinion that they have nothing whatever to do with Safety First Campaigns, we feel that good might result if the public were aware of the deaths claimed by motor accidents every year.

We take this opportunity of bidding the retiring Inspector General farewell and a happy retirement. Mr. Wolfe has guided the destinies of the Police Force for so long that it would be difficult to "think of the Force without his name coming to mind. He has, however, earned his retirement, and, reluctant though we may be to lose him, we are sure that nobody will grudge him the rest to which he is entitled. We wish him and his family many happy years of retirement in the Old Country.

Resumption

Shanghai, Oct. 14.

One of the two newly-arrived Dolphins after trial flights throughout the week, carried out a test flight to Nanking yesterday morning, the journey taking 65 minutes. Mr. Chu Chia Hua boarded the plane on the return trip and was greatly impressed by its performance.

In the afternoon newspaper men and foreign guests were given rides, flights being made for five and a quarter hours, encircling the town.

It is officially announced that the National China Aviation Company's round trip from Shanghai on Friday and from Canton on Sunday will be resumed on November 2, changing to two round trips weekly from December, the planes leaving Shanghai on Tuesdays and Fridays and from Canton on Thursdays and Sundays. Air mails only will be carried till further notice.

The General Manager of the Corporation expressed regret at the delay in the passenger service and said that it was necessary to ensure the personal safety of passengers. Ever since the suspension of the Shanghai-Canton air service, the radio stations on the line have been keeping up detailed daily reports of air conditions in order to perfect the system of information for safe service after resumption. The new radio station installed on Singshan Islands in Hangchow Bay has greatly facilitated the weather service.

The original accommodation in the new plane for eight passengers will be changed for six passengers for better comfort.—China United Press.

If Gossip We Must

By "NIGHTBIRD"

Last Tuesday night I went to the Peninsula Hotel which opened its winter season in a rather novel way. For the first time the public were given an idea what their new cocktail-bar was like. I was very agreeably surprised to find the old bar (which had given such faithful service) transformed into a really modern one, something like the ones we see in some of the latest Home side pictures, complete with models of roosters in plaster work.

Considering that it was the first time they had a dance in the Peninsula this season, I was disappointed not to see more pretty dresses, especially as the shops are so advanced now in all that they carry and all the dresses are the latest styles from London and New York. I would have thought that the Hong Kong ladies would take advantage of the many opportunities to get something really chic.

I saw Mrs. Stott (nee Patsy Hynes) in apple green. The dress was beaded right round the neck, finished off low at the back, and she looked so sweet. Mr. A. M. Parker of the Canadian Pacific had a party who were ever so merry. One of his guests was Mrs. Le Roy Newbert of Beverly Hills, Hollywood, who I believe is making a trip round the world. She was dressed in a cloth of gold with sable sleeves, and oh, so charming, too. With her was Mrs. Betty Elder who had on a dress of silver grey georgette with ostrich feather sleeves and plum velvet shoes. I was curious to know who the charming lady in black chiffon velvet trimmed with silver tissue was. She had for her escort a really tall man, Myra and Marta were there and as usual were first-class. They contributed several items but I thought the most popular of their turns was the modernistic Bolero which was very well received.

The dance came to an end at 1 a.m. despite all the talk I have heard about the extension of hours. It was so enjoyable there that we might have been allowed to stay on later, especially as the next day was a holiday.

THE DOUBLE TENTH
After he had made things miserable for us on Saturday, Jupiter Pluvius decided to keep away on Wednesday with the result that we saw some pretty women and charming dresses at the Race Course on the second day of the Eighth Extra Race Meeting. As it was a holiday I managed to get down there bright and early and one of the first persons I ran across was Mrs. T. S. Whyte-Smith in a white and red flowered silk dress with a very smart black shallow shaped hat. Mrs. Younghusband who did such a lot for the Cheer-O Club was in a royal blue suit: a colour that suits her so well. Mrs. Drouth was in a strawberry coloured suit with one of the latest Russian style blouses which looked so outstanding. I could not help noticing Mrs. Le Roy Newbert again. This time she was in a powder blue sports dress with white coat and a beautiful white fox fur—she cut such a pretty picture that many were the glances that were cast in her direction, and Mrs. Benny Proulx, wife of the popular jockey looked very happy when her husband steered St. Joan past the winning post first.

AFTER THE HOLIDAYS
There were many people to meet the Empress of Canada when she arrived on Friday. Among the people returning on her was Mrs. D. M. Biggar, wife of the manager of the Chase Bank. Mrs. Biggar is one of the most popular hostesses in the local American community and she has done so much for the International Women's Club that I am sure many people were glad to see her back again.

Mrs. Lambert Dunbar too arrived on the same vessel, also Mrs. A. L. Shields looked very charming as she walked down the gangway, in a brown and white dress and brown satin hat, and even her little dog was very-becoming to her outfit. The popular barrister, Mr. H. G. Sheldon, looked very well after a holiday, he was also one of the Empress passengers.

There were so many liners in port on Friday that during the evening, it was difficult to get a table on the first floor of the Hong Kong Hotel. It seemed as though a tourist boat was in port. And here I might mention that when we do get any people here, the Hong Kong Hotel is the first place they make for, but alas! we get back to the old story of having to leave at midnight. Do you know, the presence of so many new faces in addition to the local crowd had an effect on the band even in that they played with more pep and vim? And there is no doubt that the band is excellent, and when we have a big crowd and everybody is merry. This time I noticed there were some very pretty evening dresses although the majority of the women were in ordinary afternoon dresses. Still, it was a gay gathering and all looked so smart and happy. Miss Henry, the little dark-haired lady, was very pretty in a little flowered tulle, which seems to suit her extremely well. Mrs. Simmons was in a black and white suit, Mrs. Gee favoured a gray and black suit and hat to match, she is considered to be one of the best dressed women in town.

ON SATURDAY
Mrs. Taggart who has just come back from a holiday was having coffee with Mrs. Benson, who was in black. Mrs. Taggart's dress of tiny patterned green silk was chic, and as usual, the lounge was crowded.

The cool weather on Saturday night made dancing very agreeable. There was, I believe, the usual crowd at the Hotel, and there were many private parties. I was in one of these, and if I am not too curious, who was that gay gentleman, pulling a rickshaw near the Gloucester Building about midnight?

MR. BLENKIRON

Well-known Figure
At Kempton Park

(Special Air Mail Service).

London, Sept. 22.

The death of Mr. Thomas Walter Blenkiron, who at one time was at the head of the Kempton Park Racecourse Company, occurred at Hove on Wednesday. He had been in poor health for some time past.

A correspondent writes: Thomas Blenkiron was a man of exceptional modesty in his general outlook on life, and to know him well, as I did, was to enjoy a very solid and enduring friendship.

Not long ago he was recalling to me the famous Middle Park Stud at Eltham, which was founded by his grandfather, Mr. William Blenkiron. It was there that Hermit and other notable thoroughbreds were bred and reared.

The name of this stud is perpetuated to this day with the race at Newmarket in October, which is known as the Middle Park Stakes. For three years the Stewards of the Jockey Club accepted from Mr. Blenkiron a sum of £1,000 annually as an endowment of the race, in order that breeders should be encouraged. It is nearly thirty years since Mr. Blenkiron won the Jubilee Handicap at Kempton Park with a horse named Ambition. He had had lots of horses since, though never many at a time, and not one of any special note.

Still, trained for him by Walter Nightingall and before him by his father—they won races at intervals. He could be most patient, and understanding, and never wanted to have more than a pound or two on, no matter how their chances were esteemed.

He had been a noted Association footballer, and played for Cambridge between 1885 and 1887. I have always understood, too, that he was one of the founders of the Casuals. He frequently turned out for the Cottagers (Charterhouse) at cricket and indeed was a really admirable type of the amateur sportsman of a generation or two ago. He will be very much missed at Kempton Park.

FOREIGN LOAN
REPORT

Official Denial

(From Our Special Correspondent).

Canton, Oct. 14.
An official of the Provincial Department of Finance denied to-day that the government here is seeking a $5,000,000 loan from British and American oil companies.

"There is no necessity for such a loan," he stressed. "Even if a loan is sought, why should we seek it from foreign companies? Much less, we wish to secure such a small loan from them."

"Should the Provincial Department of Finance be really in need of money, we can raise it by other means. Reports of seeking a foreign loan are therefore absurd."

LAST RESPECTS PAID TO M. BARTHOU

Scenes At Ceremonial State Burial

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Oct. 13. All streets leading up to "Quai d'Orsay" were densely thronged by silent crowds hours before the time when the ceremonial state burial of the assassinated M. Barthou was due to begin. Towards 1.30 p.m. the coffin containing the mortal remains of M. Barthou was carried out from the cloak room where he lay in state. Members of the Government assembled in entirety.

The coffin was placed on a gun carriage which was decorated with flags and drawn by six horses. Immediately after it came four huge carriages laden with flowers and wreaths. The cortege began to move slowly. First in order was M. Barthou family and relatives, then the delegation from his home town, diplomatic corps, partly in uniform foreign delegations among whom was Sir John Simon, M. Benesch, President Lebrun and then Doumergue and the cabinet ministers, celebrated French generals, admirals and state officials; the procession closed by seemingly endless ranks of French cavalry and last of all were the Colonial troops from Morocco and Algeria. The coffin was placed on the catapault in front of Palais des Invalides where Napoleon lies. Doumergue paid his last tribute to his dead colleague in a speech broadcast to the whole nation. Subsequently the coffin was placed before the altar in the church of St. Louis adjoining the Invalides where the scene was deepened in solemnity by the sight of thousands of candles lighting up in the darkness. The Church ceremony ended at 3.45 p.m. after which the State funeral was officially ended and the body became the possession of the family. M. Barthou then began his last journey to the family vault in the cemetery of Pere Lachaise in fulfillment of his last wish.—Transocean Kuo Min.

PLOT TO KILL KING

Strange Confession By Croat

Geneva, Oct. 12.

The possibility of strong Yugoslavian representations to Hungary is envisaged as the result of a confession made by a Croat named Novak, arrested at Thonon, France, of the part he played in the assassination of King Alexander at Marseilles.

He was arrested to-day on suspicion and made his confession to-day.

Novak said his real name was Hospice and that he had been sentenced to death for a series of murders in Yugoslavia, but when he was out of the country, he therefore took shelter in a refugee camp in Hungary.

There, he said, he was trained in terrorist activities and having shown some aptitude was given a special mission and sent with two others, both Croats, to Zurich.

In Zurich the plotters were joined by the arch-assassin Kelemen and another Croat, Shilny.

All of them went to Fontainebleau, where they split into two groups. Hospice and two others going to Paris, while Kelemen and Shilny went to Marseilles.

READY TO KILL

Hospice admitted to the police that if he had received orders to "execute" the King of Yugoslavia he would not have hesitated to carry them out.

Yugoslavia is almost sure to bring the matter to the notice of the League of Nations, especially as the Yugoslavian government only last April drew the attention of the League to the fact that the Croat refugees in Hungary had formed an organisation for purposes of instituting a reign of terror in Yugoslavia.

The conspirators are said to have had three plans for the murder of King Alexander. If the Marseilles outrage had failed an attempt would have been made to wreck the royal train near Lyons and finally, if those plans also went amiss, he would have been attacked with pistols and bombs in Paris.—Reuter.

TRADE AGREEMENT WITH UNITED STATES To Be Abrogated By The German Government

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Oct. 13.

Complete confirmation was received from an official source on Saturday night of Transocean's announcement on Saturday morning that the German Ambassador to Washington had notified the United States Government that Germany intended to denounce the German-United States trade agreement of December 8, 1923 in order that Article seven might be subjected to revision. The effect of this notification is that the existing treaty which came into force on October 14, 1925 terminated on October 13, 1934. At the same time, the German Ambassador has also informed the United States Government that Germany is prepared at any time to enter into negotiations about future German-United States trade relations. In official quarters it is learned that the German Government has decided to denounce the existing treaty at this juncture since otherwise it would have continued automatically further for two years. That is to say the notification given to the United States bears the nature of a precautionary measure. From the German side it has been repeatedly pointed out recently that in view of the extraordinary development in world economic conditions the trade between Germany and the United States must be put on a new basis. In particular the Reich Government has pointed out that Article seven requires revision in view of the economic changes that have occurred in the last few years. On the other hand the form of denunciation adopted by the Reich Government indicates that on the German side there is a desire to retain the treaty as such just as it stands except insofar as the provisions of Article seven is concerned.—Transocean Kuo Min.

A CHANCE FOR ADVENTURE

American Yacht In Singapore

Singapore, Oct. 6. Who wants a trip to Ball on a yacht in the company of 16 American boys and girls? The charge is $5 a day and anybody who accepts must be ready to work like a sailor.

There is one other qualification: applicants must be "adventure loving."

There are at present in Singapore a number of hardy young Americans who are out on a great adventure. They want to visit every possible part of the world in a tiny 81 tons sailing yacht. They have now been at sea for some months and have covered over 23,000 miles. They hope to cover another 15,000 before they return to Gloucester, in the United States.

At the present time the Yankee, as the little craft of these intrepid sailors is called, is under repairs at Thornycroft slipway at Tanjong Rhu. She will be out of the renovators' hands shortly, and will leave for Netherlands Indian ports.

Better Than Text Books

Capt. Irvine Johnson, owner and master of the vessel, says he is willing to take two adventure loving people from Singapore as far as Ball, at a fixed rate of $5 a day. While on board they will have to do the ordinary work of sailors—just like the others.

The 23,000 miles covered by the Yankee since she left Gloucester has been full of adventure.

The crew of the Yankee numbers 16, and includes four women, one of whom is Mrs. Irvine Johnson. Several of them are public school boys and girls who have undertaken this trip in preference to a university education. They believe that there is a good deal more to be learned this way than by studying text books. And it is with this end in view that Capt. Irvine Johnson has mapped out his itinerary.

The little craft, too, is admirably suited for this type of cruise. She was originally a pilot boat built for the Dutch Government in Dutch shipyards. For some time she was used as a pilot boat by the Dutch in the North Sea.

WEEK-END FOOTBALL RESULTS

All Senior Games End In Points Being Shared

The spoils were divided in all the premier League games in Saturday's local football programme, this being the first occasion for some years that this has taken place.

The feature of the programme was the display between the East Lancs and the Recreio, the latter making a surprising rally in the second half to draw level after being two goals down at the interval.

Frayed tempers featured the closing minutes of the encounter between the Club and the Athletic when two Club players had their names taken.

South China "B" suffered a rude shock when a hat-trick by Jones checked their run of success and this has resulted in the "A" team's chances being strengthened.

There were no surprises in the Second and Third Divisions.

The Lincoln's Seniors were a very much surprised team on Saturday when they led the Recreio by two goals at the interval but were forced to a draw as a result of a rally by the latter in the second half, when changes in the Recreio defence turned the tables.

Having much the better of the play at the commencement of the game, the Lincolns took things easily.

Beltrao In Goal

The Recreio were without the leadership of A. V. Gosano, who, injured in the mid-week match, will probably abstain from football for the next three weeks. Beltrao, another invalid from a previous game, turned out in the goal-keeping position, and Sousas was brought in in place of "A.V."

B. Gosano, who opened as inside-left, dropped back to the pivotal position just after the re-start and his play from that period showed a decided improvement. Receiving valuable assistance from Marques and Goncalves, he combined to make an effective stumbling block to the Lincolns attack.

Silva-Netto gave a very sound performance, but Bowen, though he improved a great deal, opened very shakily.

The Lincolns opened the scoring through McGuinness who sent in a lobbing shot which Beltrao mis-handled. Within a few minutes McGuinness added another, this time through a mis-understanding between Bowen and the goal-keeper.

On the resumption of play the Recreio assumed the ascendancy and on many occasions completely outwitted the Lincolns defence only to lose the ball in some inexplicable manner. Sousas, eventually, with a glorious header reduced the lead and shortly afterwards Alves obtained the equaliser with the best goal of the game.

EAST LANC'S SURPRISED

The East Lancs First Division team suffered a rude shock at Soekupoo on Saturday, when the Royal Artillery forced a draw of two goals each, making a great rally in the closing stages of the game.

The East Lancashires had the best of the game during the first half and they scored the only goal through a clever shot by Salmon from 25 yards.

Smith opened the Gunners' score with a smart shot from short range, and good work by Edmunds, Hopkins, Wood and Knight was rewarded when, following a skilful attack around the Lancashire goal, Wood received his chance and netted.

A CLOSE GAME

Saturday's main feature in the Football League, the encounter between South China "B", potential champions, and the League Champions, the South Wales Borderers, ended in a drawn game, the teams sharing six goals.

The Borderers were very much below their usual standard as a result of injuries and changes, while South China "B" were much the same.

There was far too much wild kicking by both teams and it was some time before either side settled down. The short passing game so favoured by the Chinese was hardly exploited for some unknown reason, the ball being swung from wing to wing.

The Borderers opened the scoring through Jones, following a free kick for a handball offence. A few minutes later the same player put the Borderers further ahead.

Cheuk Shek-kam reduced the deficit with a fast shot which gave Traut no chance. Shortly before the interval Lai Shui-wing scored the equaliser with an unstoppable shot.

Midway through the second period, Tsang King-ki obtained possession near the halfway line, and raced through on his own to end up with the best goal of the match.

Mullane then changed places with Morrison, and the move proved valuable, for within a couple of minutes, Jones had completed his hat-trick and equalised for the Borderers following a pass from Mullane.

CLUB-ATHLETIC GAME

Rough play on the part of both sets of forwards in the last quarter of the hour of the game between the Club and the Athletic in the First Division on Saturday, resulted in ruffled tempers and two Club members had their names taken. The result was a draw of 2 goals each.

What appeared to most to be a very fair charge by Earle Strange was queried by the Referee much to the amazement of the packed stands and soon after when an Athletic forward hacked at Rodger while the latter was attempting a clearance and Rodger immediately adopted a threatening attitude, he had his name taken.

The game on the whole was a very poor display, the Club forwards with the exception of Drown and Fowler were weak.

The Athletic missed a goal in the first moment of play when Au Ping-ming was robbed by Pote-Hunt. Howe received the ball and ran down the middle to pass to Drown almost on the goal line, and the latter had no difficulty in scoring the first goal of the game after three minutes' play.

Howe missed a goal soon after the commencement.

Just before half time Au Ping-ming equalised for the Athletic, when he crashed the ball past Rodger.

The closing stages of the first half were anxious moments for Rodger, but he saved brilliantly.

Fowler put the Club ahead a few moments later when he gave Su no chance with a wonderful "daisy cutter" from 30 yards.

KOWLOON LUCKY

A very listless game was seen when Kowloon, luckily held the Police to a draw of 1 goal each, on their own ground.

Johnston made up for his previous errors, with a splendid shot from close-in, after Stephens had beaten three men and unselfishly passed to the centre-forward.

A breakaway on the left saw Kowloon obtain the equaliser. P. Knox centred to V. White, who lobbed, rather than shot, the ball into the net.

BORDERERS WIN EASILY

Playing on the Railway Ground at Kowloon, the Kowloon Juniors were routed by the Borderers in their Second Division fixture by seven clear goals. Boys in goal for the losers played a very keen game and prevented the margin of victory from being greater.

Lee was the only forward who showed any promise but he was starved throughout.

Goals were scored by McGeorge (3), Simmonds (2), Thomas and Whelan.

BADLY OUTLINED

The Young Indians were completely outclassed in every department of the game in the second division fixture against the East Lancs and went down by 8 goals to 1.

Ridings, Griffin, Bettin and Thompson scored in the 1st half and just after the start Griffin added to the score with a shot from an acute angle, but Yusuf got through for the Indians and scored past Harmsworth.

Griffin and Thorpe (2) added to the score from then onwards when the Indian defence was over-run.

NAVY BEATEN

A very good game was witnessed in the Second Division on Saturday when the Lincolns had the better of the Royal Navy by 5 goals to 3, the feature of the game being the display by McGuinness.

The Lincolns led at the interval by 3 goals to 2, after netting the Navy's goals while Evans (2) and Setters scored for the Lincolns.

In the second period the soldiers gradually gained the upper hand and Waldry and Setters added further goals for the winners while Gelling netted the Navy's third goal.

CLUB OUTPLAYED

The Club seconds, although outclassed by a better team gave the Athletic Juniors a run for their money in their Second Division fixture, which the Chinese won by 5 goals to 1.

Although the Athletic possessed a better all round team they by no means had everything their own way, and the Club's experimental forward line did its best under the circumstances.

Goldman who played at centre was out of the picture during most of the game, but whenever an opportunity presented itself he did feed his wings.

The Athletic played splendid football and led by four clear goals at the interval, scoring through Chan Chung-yui (2), Aug. Kim-fung and Cheung Moon-wing.

Chan Chung-yui netted the winners' fifth goal with a drive just over Payne's head, the goal-keeper failing to hold the ball.

Farrow scored the Club's only goal.

A SCRAPPY GAME

A very scrappy game was seen at the Valley when the Artillery defeated "Eastern" by 5 goals to 2.

Up till fifteen minutes of the end the Eastern held the Gunners, but Lai Tin-choi, one of the Eastern's backs was compelled to leave the field through an injury and thereafter the Gunners piled on three more goals.

Morton opened the scoring for the Artillery but the same player soon after failed to convert a penalty.

Lee Bing-fong equalised through a penalty kick but Butterfield regained the lead for the Gunners just before the interval.

After the interval play was confined to mid-field for some time but Fung Chai-po again brought the scores level with a solo run ending in a glorious drive.

Lai Tin-choi was soon after injured and with only ten men the Eastern were over-run, the Gunners scoring again through Morton (penalty) and Fisher (2).

UNIVERSITY BEATEN

After leading at the interval by the odd goal in three the University were unlucky to lose their Second Division encounter with the Royal Engineers by the odd goal in five.

The Engineers opened the scoring through Howlett who converted a corner kick with a neat header. Blake soon after took the ball down the left wing and centred for Goon to equalise.

Young gave the Varsity the lead just before the interval with a fast rising ball.

In the second half the Engineers assumed the mastery and drew level through Howlett, while O'Grady registered the winning goal with a drive from the wing.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

SOUTH CHINA BEAT ARMY

Although lacking the services of four of their regular players, South China managed to beat the Army by the convincing margin of five goals to one in a charity match played at Caroline Hill yesterday. There was a fairly large gathering present, including Sir Thomas and Lady Southorn, H.E. Major-General O.C. Borrett and Commodore F. Elliot.

The Army started promisingly and within five minutes were one goal ahead. Hopkins being responsible. They were, however, unable to increase their lead, owing to the soundness of the Chinese defence, especially Li Tin Sang and Lau Mau.

Towards the end of the first half, the Chinese improved and after several fruitless raids, Ip Pak Wah equalised.

After the interval the Chinese continued to improve and kept play continuously in their opponents' half. The soldiers could not make any headway being bottled up by the Chinese halves who fed their forwards with brilliant passes. Few minutes after the interval, Lai Shui-wing gained the lead for his side and from then on the Chinese had all the play. They met with further success when after a brilliant passing bout between Tam Keng Pak and Ip Pak Wah added the fourth goal and soon afterwards he completed the "hat-trick."

JUNIOR DIVISION

As far as play was concerned, the Junior Division game between South China and the Army was more lively than the senior one.

ST. JOSEPH'S AND NAVY

St. Joseph's and the Navy played to a goalless draw on the Railway ground, Kowloon, yesterday, in the First Division game.

The opening half saw many thrilling moments, the first of which resulted from a combined Navy movement which ultimately saw Smith well placed, but his powerful drive was brilliantly deflected by Lim, who dived at full length across the goal-mouth, for a fruitless corner. Soon after Fairless tore down the right wing and put in a lovely centre, but again the opportunity was wasted as none of the Navy forwards were in a position to take the ball.

A clever pass by Rocha saw Lee with a clear passage on the right but he shot wide with only Pepper to beat. From the goal-keeper's point of view, the ball to Smith who in turn cleverly evaded Gomes and Fairless, who placed the ball in an open goal, mistimed to allow Leonard to recover and clear.

The ball was again seen at the Navy goal and their defence were given a rude shock when Fernandez broke away and was unfortunate not to score, the ball finding off the left upright.

In the second half the Navy's goal underwent a terrific bombardment midway through the half when Rocha shot from point blank from an opening by Ward. Pepper diving at full length to push the ball to Fernandez, whose return shot was headed off by West.

Just before the end the Navy retaliated but were unable to score in spite of three brilliant centres from Smith.

R.A.S.C. BEAT R.E.

In the Third Division at Chat-ham Road yesterday the Royal Army Service Corps defeated the Royal Engineers by four goals to one in a scrappy game.

The Services opened the scoring through Halford and soon after Clarke scored a second goal. The Engineers scored their only goal through Harding.

In the second half Halford again netted while Flood put the Services beyond doubt with a splendid effort.

More Records Lowered By Lawrence

A unique performance was accomplished by W. Lawrence on Saturday night when, by lowering the record for the 330 yards free style, he broke all the Colony's existing records from 100 yards upwards.

There was a large attendance at the V.R.C. for the final night fete of the season. The half mile swim resulted in Lawrence registering 11 minutes 55.2 seconds which was two full seconds better than Johnstone's best time, which had been the record since 1929.

Another record was established when Kwok Chun Hang won the 100 yards breast stroke in 72 seconds. This is five seconds better than the former record which was established in 1932, set by Kwok Chun Hang himself.

Yet another record went by the board when T. Paget accounted for L. Oliveira in the 50 yards to return the time of 25.4 seconds.

Ed. da Roza won the diving championship for the eighth year in succession. There was no opposition. A water polo match brought the programme to a close. The prizes will be distributed after the Harbour race on October 27.

St. Andrew's Lose First Match

In a fast and furious game at the Police Training School yesterday, St. Andrew's lost their first match of the season when opposed to the Royal Corps of Signals. The Club played without the services of Gluchrist but Broadbridge who played in his place proved a good substitute.

The Signals were slightly the faster of the two teams, but White and Broadbridge at back held them out during the first half. The Saints were slow in front of the R.C.S. goal, otherwise they might have obtained a lead in the first half, which however proved scoreless.

In the second half, the Signals asserted themselves, scoring through May and Fielding respectively. The Saints were undaunted and the reverse spurred them on. Fincher receiving a good pass from Carroll, scored. A few minutes later Colledge netted, but the goal was disallowed on the score of offside.

The Saints were definitely more aggressive towards the end of the game. The final score was 2-1 in favour of the R.C.S.

For the winners, Martin, Fielding, May and Hodges played a sound game, while from time to time Whitehead was responsible for breaking up the Saints' attack. The losers had a very valuable man in Colledge. Broadbridge and White were good, but Hamson and MacNider were not at their best.

The teams were as follows:-
Royal Corps of Signals: Cross, Martin (Capt.), Whitehead, Buttery, Dilly, Austin, Higgin Bottom, Fielding, May, Hodges, Larkin.

St. Andrew's: Wong, Broadbridge, White, MacNider, Guest (Capt.), Hamson, Carroll, Mackay, Colledge, Fincher, Bidduld.

VOLUNTEER GYMKHANA

Spills And Thrills On Saturday

Weather conditions were ideal for the Volunteers Gymkhana which was held on Saturday at Causeway Bay before a very large attendance. Amongst those present were H. E. the Governor Sir William Peel and Lady Peel, H. E. Major General O. C. Borrett and Mrs. Borrett, Sir Thomas Southey, and Lt.-Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin.

The programme provided a good number of items some of which were quite thrilling. The hunter competition was spectacular and the chariot race proved thrilling. In the latter event only two chariots completed the distance and the winner was Miss Betty Fair whose chariot was drawn by Messrs. A. J. Stocker and D. P. Yates.

Mr. R. H. Charles was injured in the course of this race, but fortunately the injuries were not serious and he was able to compete in other events during the afternoon.

The Musical Chairs, which opened the programme, was also won by Miss Betty Fair.

In the Tent Pegging competition, Lt. Mead won from Captain Potts.

The Children's Riding Competition revealed what good juvenile riding talent there is in the Colony. The older children (11-14) rode extremely well and knew how to handle their mounts. The winner was Miss Peggy Kinchin, who won the same event last year. Master Pierre Jordan won the prize for boys.

In the second section (6-10) Miss Patsy Mirabelli was adjudged the winner amongst the girls and Master John Neworthy the winner amongst the boys. The third section (for children under 6) drew three competitors, two boys and a girl. Miss Brenda Nosworthy won the girls' prize and Master Peter H. Potts won the boys' prize. Master Anthony Cutcher received a special prize.

The Alarm race showed with what speed and efficiency the members of the M.C.F. can work. No. 1 was Section under Lt. Cpl. Robertson won the event.

The Goofy Polo proved a disappointment in that there were too many competitors and the competition turned out to be more a matter of luck than skill.

The Javelin Throwing competition which brought to the programme to a close was quite good, the event being won by Mr. R. H. Charles, who also won the handy hunter competition with African Eve. In connection with this competition the best jumper undoubtedly was Cyrano, which won the Australian ponies section.

NEWS FROM CHINA

THE RETIRING MINISTER

Mr. Lo Wen Kan In Canton

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Oct. 14.

Mr. Lo Wen Kan, former Minister of Foreign Affairs and concurrently Minister of Judicial Administration, arrived here on Friday night by train from Hong Kong after resigning his official duties at Nanking.

"I am coming home for a rest," Mr. Lo told newspaper men. "I have resigned my official post in Nanking. Although my resignation has not yet been accepted, my duties are temporarily taken care of by the Vice-Minister, Dr. Cheng Tin Sik until a successor has been appointed."

Tired of official life in the capital, Mr. Lo declined to discuss Chinese politics, as he takes no further interest in government affairs. Concerning the situation in Sinkiang, where he visited by air sometime ago, the former judicial chief stated that conditions there are complicated and that the province is too far away for the government authorities to do anything.

Diplomatic problems and judicial affairs being out of his mind for the time being at least, Mr. Lo said that he would take a trip to nearby rural and agricultural area to study the conditions of the peasants and farming. When informed that farming conditions in Kwangtung are bad, the former minister declared that the same situation is prevailing in other parts of the country.

Mr. Lo believes that extravagance of the people is the cause of the economic trouble in China and that she should not follow the luxury of the European or American standard, as Chinese economic system is far behind that of Western countries.

DISCUSSIONS IN CANTON

Chungshan Mutiny And Congress

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Oct. 14.

The Chungshan mutiny and the Fifth National Congress of Kuomintang Representatives were discussed to-day by Mr. Hsiao Fu Chen, official spokesman of the South-west Political Council.

Contrary to previous reports, Mr. Hsiao said that Mr. Tang Shao Yi, Magistrate of Chungshan Model County, has not sent in his resignation but is at present residing in a sanitarium here.

As regards the nomination of five candidates by the provincial assembly at Tong Ka Wan to be chosen as magistrate of the county, Mr. Hsiao said that the South-west Political Council has not made any decision.

Dr. Wang's Mission

Concerning Dr. Wang Chung Hui as a peace emissary on behalf of the Central Authorities, Mr. Hsiao said he had no information at all of Dr. Wang's mission except what he read from the newspapers, which stated that he is due to arrive here soon from Hong Kong to explain Nanking's views to the leaders here.

"The present political situation is tense," Mr. Hsiao added. "The return of General Li Chung Jen, Commander-in-Chief of the Fourth Group Army to Kwangsi has been cancelled. General Pai Hsing Hs, the executive officer, is so busy with his military duties in Kwangsi that he will not visit Canton."

The spokesman said that primary attention should be drawn to military defence and not to the Fifth National Congress which is too empty to serve any useful purpose.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

MESSRS. ROZA BROS.

Saturday, Oct. 13. There was no break in Silver prices yesterday, quotations being barely 1/16 down at 24 7/16 for Ready and 24 9/16 for Forward. Speculative operations on both sides of the market were advised as also sales for account of China. The market closed apparently steady with fairly active market at official rates.

No Sterling quotations was available from New York yesterday due to a holiday, but London quoted the Dollar at 4/4.

Market. Erratic at the opening but subsequently firmed up and a fair amount of business was transacted in the Inter-Bank market. The tone at the close was firm although Shanghai was indicated to have been easier.

Sterling. Opened sellers at 1/8 1/2 but a small business was soon transacted at 1/8 1/2 for November followed almost immediately by transactions at 1/8 3/4 for November. Subsequently offered at 1/8 5/16 were accepted for November. At this stage the market strengthened and business was done at 1/8 11/32 November, 1/8 5/16 near, 1/8 1/2 December, 1/8 13/32 December. Towards the close 1/8 11/32 was arranged for near delivery, finishing with sellers at 1/8 11/32 for near, 1/8 1/2 November and 1/8 13/32 December, buyers at 1/8 1/2 higher respectively.

U.S. Dollars. There were sellers after the opening at 41 1/2, buyers bidding 41 1/2. Business was done at 41 1/2 for near followed by transactions at 41 13/16 for near and November. Towards the close 41 13/16 was again arranged for November delivery. The market closed with sellers at 41 1/2 for near and probably 41 13/16 November, buyers at 41 13/16 for cash and 41 1/2 November.

142 1/2. Guilders.

Shanghai Dollars. 110. 9/16. Shanghai Market. Opened at a substantially lower level, Sterling at 1/6 1/2 for near and 1/8 3/16 forward. The rate touched 1/6 1/2 during the morning but subsequently eased to 1/6 3/16 for both near and forward. Advice received towards the close indicated the market as being easier with sellers only at 1/6 1/2, buyers probably at 1/6 3/16 for cash Dollars, 37 1/2 for near, 37 7/16 for forward at the opening at which rate the market continued. Towards the close the selling rate receded to 37 5/16, buyers at 37 7/16 for near.

GERMAN SHARE MARKET

Berlin, Oct. 13. The demand for shares was more active than usual on Saturday, hence the market was on the rise. The buoyancy seemed to be due to natural reaction against undue pessimism earlier in the week. No specific stimulating factors were apparent. The fixed interest securities were neglected but the quotations remained firm, gold and mortgage and municipal bonds even rising slightly. Call Money 4 to 4 1/2. Young Loan improved 5/8 to 14 1/2. Dytrusts rose 7/8 to 14 1/2. Salzdorf-Potsdam jumped 2 to 15. German Steel Trusts declined 1/8 to 43. German Mineral Oil unchanged at 107 1/2. Siemens-Lake 5/8 firmer at 14 1/2 and Bemberg-Rayon advanced 1/2 to 134 1/2.

Speaking generally, the price trend early in the week took place under common belief that the Reich Government intended to hasten the rise to par, all fixed interest securities so as to attempt a big scale conversion. The tragic events in Marseilles on Tuesday bringing all buying to a standstill and the upward trend of fixed interest securities stopped. When the subsequent events showed that international complications resulting from the assassinations were not to be expected the bourse took to heart again and the fixed interest securities remaining firm at the price level reached while leader shares showed substantial advances.

American Inquiry Disclosures

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 22.

In accordance with the method followed since the opening of the Senate Committee investigation of the American munitions industry, public interest had been whetted by the announcement last night that "bootlegging" of military materials into Germany would be the next matter of inquiry, writes a correspondent. There was also an intimation from a Committee source that as much testimony as possible must be read into record, as a danger existed that the investigation might be smothered by outside influences.

I am informed that the phrase "outside influences" must not be taken as referring to the large number of protests received at the State Department—and duly transmitted to the Committee—from representatives in Washington of foreign Governments, but rather to the warnings of American commercial interests that the conduct of their business and the conclusion of contracts are seriously impeded by the nature of the testimony taken in the last fortnight and by the demonstration that confidential business communications cannot escape publicity.

So far as the action of foreign Governments is concerned it is made abundantly clear to those who speak with members of the Committee that similar investigations in other countries are desired, and that certain lines of inquiry are being pursued for the express purpose of stimulating this complementary action. But American business objections have greater influence, coming at a time when trade is stagnant and when the Government itself is endeavouring to conclude a series of reciprocal agreements with countries in this hemisphere.

1.143.75 Per Cent. Profit. When the morning session ended nothing had been heard of "bootlegging" into Germany. Testimony was taken from officials of that group of manufacturers of engines and amphibian aircraft at the head of which stands the United Aircraft Corporation, and which includes Pratt and Whitney, Sikorsky, Boeing, and other companies. A large graph was produced by investigators showing that an investment of $1,000 in the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corporation in 1924 produced by 1932 $11,437,250 in cash and stock dividends, or otherwise stated, a profit in eight years of 1,143.75 per cent. This particular company turns out the so-called Wasp air-cooled engine and the Committee seemed to find some significance in the fact that in 1928 its very profitable business was entirely, and in 1931 more than 80 per cent., with the Navy Department.

At the close of the afternoon session Senator Nye turned to the nature of the United Company's business with Germany and Holland since 1929. From that year to 1932 the company's total sales to Germany were $59,000 and to Holland $439,000. In 1933, however, German purchases rose to $272,000, while from January 1 to August 31 this year the company shipped to Germany 178 engines, two large transports, six two-seater mail aeroplanes, and other equipment of a total value of $1,445,000. As these sales to Germany grew Senator Nye produced figures indicating that the sale to Holland had dropped below the German figure—to $234,000 in 1933 and to $138,000 for the first eight months of this year.

Licences to use the company's patents are held in Germany, and a letter from one representative of the company in Europe to another written in May 1933, asserted that since Herr Hitler had come into power, one large aeroplane factory in Germany had doubled the number of its employees and another had tripled its force.

Upon the question of shipments to Germany the Committee was told that approval of United States Government officials was in every case obtained by the United Company, and that a statement of the material exported was periodically supplied to the Navy Department. To the demand to know whether at any time the company's activities had "directly or indirectly" violated the armament provisions of the Treaty of Versailles, a denial was entered.

BISHOP REMOVED FROM OFFICE

Munich, Oct. 12. Dr. Melzer, bishop of the Evangelical Church in Bavaria was removed from office on Friday night by a decree based on article six of the constitution of the German Evangelical Church. The cause for this disciplinary action is stated as being a permanent refusal to make valid the laws of the German Evangelical Church. For the time being, the duties and powers of the regional bishop of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bavaria on the right side of the Rhine will be performed by two commissioners, one in Nuremberg for Franconia and the other in Munich for Old Bavaria.
